Part X, Line 2:

The Organization is a not-for-profit organization exempt from federal income tax under provisions of Internal Revenue Code Section 501(c)(3).

However, the Organization remains subject to income taxes on any net income that is derived from a trade or business, regularly carried on and not in furtherance of the purpose for which it was granted exemption.

It is the Organization's policy to account for any uncertainties in income tax law in accordance with FASB ASC 740-10, Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes. ASC 740-10 clarifies the accounting for uncertain income tax positions and requires that the Organization recognize the impact of such a tax position in its financial statements if, upon ultimate settlement, bodies and spirits. Additionally, through a variety of curated trainings and workshops, Resilient Retreat has helped and educated over 1300 community members. Data collected to date from program participants has shown decreases in depression, a reduction in suicidal thoughts, an increase in emotional clarity, an increase in improved sleep, increases in knowledge and decreases in days of work missed due to stress.

Resilient Retreat is building an 18,000 square foot Retreat Center and a 5,000 square foot Community Center on 84 acres of conserved land, where survivors and first responders/helping professionals will be hosted for multi-day retreats. Participants will have the opportunity to sample a wide range of evidence-based programs, to see what is most helpful to them, so that they can incorporate supports into their own life. The Retreat Center and Community Center are expected to be fully operational in the latter part of 2022. Additionally, the Retreat Center and Community Center will hold a variety of day and evening programming for survivors of trauma, first responders, teachers, medical professionals, mental health professionals, advocates, and

Duty to disclose. In connection with any actual or possible conflict of interest, an interested person must disclose the existence of the financial interest and be given the opportunity to disclose all material facts to the directors of committees with governing board delegated powers considering the proposed transaction or arrangement.

Determining whether a conflict of interest exists. After disclosure of the financial interest and all material facts, and after any discussion with the interested person, the interested person shall leave the governing board or committee meeting while the determination of a conflict of interest is discussed and voted upon. The remaining board or committee directors shall decide if a conflict of interest exists.

Procedures for addressing the conflict of interest. (A) An interested person may make a presentation at the governing board or committee meeting, but after the presentation, the interested person shall leave the meeting during the discussion of, and vote on, the transaction or arrangement involving the possible conflict of interest; (B) the Chair of the governing board or committee shall, if appropriate, appoint a disinterested person or committee to investigate alternatives to the proposed transaction or arrangement; (C) After exercising due diligence, the governing board or committee shall determine whether the corporation can obtain with reasonable efforts a more advantageous transaction or arrangement from a person or entity that would not give rise to a conflict of interest; and (D) If a more advantageous transaction or arrangement is not reasonably possible under circumstances not producing a conflict of interest, the governing board or committee shall determine by a majority vote of the disinterested directors whether the transaction or arrangement is in the corporation's best interest, for its own benefit, and whether it is fair and reasonable. In conformity with the above determination it shall make its decision as to whether to enter into the transaction or arrangement.

Violations of the conflict of interest policy. If the governing board or committee has reasonable cause to believe an interested person has failed to disclose actual or possible conflicts of interest, the board or committee shall inform thee interested of the basis for such belief and afford the interested person an opportunity to explain the alleged failure to disclose. If, after hearing the interested person's response and after making further investigation as warranted by the circumstances, the governing board or committee determines the interested person has failed to disclose an actual or possible conflict of interest, the governing board or committee shall take appropriate disciplinary and corrective action.
